State Items.

The loafing law was enforced in Gaffney Saturday, when Paul McComb was tried, found guilty, and fined.

Furman University will have military training next year. A professor and eight students go to Plattsburg so that they may qualify to act as officers next year.

The improved highway from Greenwood to Greer, which has been in process of construction for several months, is now completed and in use.

Two South Carolina men were reported in the casualty lists of the week as wounded severely: Lieut. Wm. H. Hayes of Newberry; and Corporal Charles H. Brantley, of Georgetown.

The city of Chester, following the example set by Greenville, has inaugurated the custom of having its electric lights turned off each night for one minute, the object being to remind our citizens of the terrible war that this country and her allies are waging across the seas.

The Due West Railroad stands in the unique position of opposing the government increase of 25% in freight rates. The problem arises from the fact that the increase may make it cheaper for the people of Due West to truck their freight from Donalds.

South Carolina no longer stands at the foot of the class in the matter of buying War Savings Stamps. In May this State stood seventh from the last—Georgia being the one at the very bottom. Leaders in this State think the State's rank will be much higher than that when the final figures for the drive are tabulated.

National.

Christie Benet took the oath of office Monday and was seated in the Senate.

Worth Daniels, son of the secretary of the navy, entered the naval academy at Annapolis Tuesday.

The great United States tuberculosis hospital for soldiers near Asheville, will be completed and ready for operation August 1.

150 Western Union Key men quit work Monday in Atlanta. In only one other city, Oklahoma City, did Konenkamp's strike order operate.

Women were included in the "Work or fight" bill passed by the Georgia State Senate Tuesday. Persons affected must work five and a half days a week instead of five.

H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, Monday announced his withdrawal from the campaign for the United States Senate from Georgia. Continued illness was the reason given.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, chairman of the inter-state commerce committee, reported out to the Senate without recommendation, the Aswell resolution, providing for control of the telegraph and telephone lines for the period of the war. He stated that, in his opinion, it was unnecessary and a waste of time to hold hearing on the bill.

A house resolution authorizing the return to former President Roosevelt of the $40,000 Nobel peace prize which he voted to an industrial peace commission and which he now wishes to distribute to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and other organizations aiding soldiers, because no use was made of it, was adopted by the Senate Monday and sent to President Wilson.

International.

A half million men are with Pershing as fighters now.

The Turks are to start a great offensive against Jerusalem in the autumn.

A thousand Chinese have been murdered in Chinese Turkestan by roving hordes of the Bolsheviks, according to reports from Peking.
